MEDIA STRATEGY

Hello, my name is Emily Schutte! Melissa and I met in Green Bay at a women's networking cooperative. I love being a member of her team. When I'm not writing, you'll find me spending time with my husband and our families and friends. My nieces and nephew are the light of my life! I also enjoy expressing my creativity in other ways, including cooking, playing piano, and needlecrafts. I am also a voracious reader who is eternally curious about a wide range of topics. I love working with business owners and teams to develop and refine a successful content marketing strategy. And yes, I'm one of those people who actually enjoys social media. I look forward to helping you and your organization!
