GRAPHIC DESIGNER

Hello, I'm Jodi Streich. As a freelance Graphic Designer with expertise in marketing, advertising, digital design and print, I have built brand identities and promotional materials for small businesses, as well as created packaging design, publications, and campaigns for corporations. My goal is to provide effective and creative design solutions that make your products desirable and your services appealing.

A Wisconsin original, I grew up with a love for everything technology. This I have passed on to my three daughters, whose stay-at-home mom has shown them that developing creative thinking, self-discipline and time management skills, while at the same time, enriching them and shuttling them to school, activities, and friends, can lead to a successful and satisfying life.

When I'm not designing or enriching, I and my husband of 18 years love to golf, spend time with our families, and watch our girls participate in softball and cheer in the Fox Valley.
